

The New York State Council for Community Behavioral Healthcare (“The Council”) is pleased to announce the launch of The Partnership for Integrated Care. As a Founding Member of the Partnership, The NYS Council looks forward to working with service providers and stakeholders throughout New York State to reduce health disparities and make integrated, equitable services a reality for every New Yorker.

The Partnership for Integrated Care, co-led by Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Providers of NYS (ASAP), the Center for Practice Innovations, the NYS Council for Community Behavioral Healthcare (The NYS Council), Primary Care Development Corporation (PCDC), and The Coalition for Behavioral Health (The Coalition), will foster a health and human services delivery system that strengthens service providers and stakeholders and ensures a “no wrong door” approach for people seeking and benefitting from support.

The Partnership will achieve its vision of integration by:

- Ensuring connection to resources, training, and technical assistance for agencies throughout NYS,
- Advocating for a regulatory infrastructure that facilitates access to whole-person care and supports multiple pathways to integrated care, and
- Eliminating barriers to care for vulnerable New Yorkers.

Vision: Every New Yorker should have access to comprehensive, coordinated, integrated services that are person-centered, culturally competent and data driven.

Guiding values: The Partnership is committed to a health and human services delivery system that:

- Promotes justice, equity, diversity, inclusion, and anti-racism practices
- Addresses the real impediments to integration
- Promotes transformational, representative, and inclusive change that challenges the status quo and produces deep, lasting change
