

Partnership for Integrated Care announces a Virtual Learning Opportunity:

Making Integration Possible with a System of Care Approach

December 20th from 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm

The COSOC (Co-Occurring System of Care) framework developed in the Mid-Hudson Region has brought together a wide range of community partners to create integrated care opportunities for individuals with mental health, substance misuse, addiction & other complex challenges, and their supports.

Presenters:

Stephanie Marquesano,
Founder and President,
The Harris Project

Michael Orth,
Commissioner,
Westchester County
Department Of Mental Health

Dr. William Mullane,
Director of Innovation,
Integration, and Community
Partnerships, Westchester
Jewish Community Services

Objectives:

- Participants will learn about goals and objectives of the Mid-Hudson COSOC project through a lived experience, Local Government Unit, and provider lens.
- Participants will be able to identify steps and considerations for a system of care approach from an organization and larger system perspective.
- Participants will leave with a grasp of potential deliverables and outcome measures of providing integrated co-occurring care.
- Participants will explore additional opportunities and barriers.

Register \(link here\) for this one-hour webinar which includes a Q&A session.

The Partnership's Learning Opportunities are designed to highlight innovations, in-care achievements, and provide a learning space for providers and community members to share how to improve pathways to integrated care and support connections with those shifting the approach to care for their communities.

Learn about the Partnership